

Andras Egyed

Self-trained web developer with a wide portfolio of project-based experience, seeking to fully change my long-term profession to web development and move my expertise into a business environment. Have established my current career in the private healthcare sector through 7+ years of degree-based education and work experience, evolving from a support worker & a coordination driven role into strategic leadership.

DEVELOPMENT EXPERIENCE

2020 - Present

Udemy / Self-study

- Completing Udemy's The Complete Web Development Bootcamp
- Evolved trained knowledge by extending functionalities of course-included existing projects as well as initiating own projects
- Re-worked existing UGC blog page by adding features (e.g. implementation of user authentication, swipe interactions), changing navigation and structure for a smoother user experience
- Created a crud application with Firebase backend with multiple authentication options including otp text confirmation
- Built a dynamic portfolio web-page, inspired by an existing design, that compiles all of my signature projects whilst applying new features such as lazy embedding and pop-state event manipulation
